Happy birthday, Em! May thirty be the year when everything you have been putting off finally happens. I am right here, as always: with champagne and bad ideas.

Anna Smith

Emma, I thought for a long time about what to write and realised I just want to say thank you. For being the only person who answers messages at three in the morning. For the pies, the balcony talks, and for never saying "I told you so", even though you have every right to.

May this year be as generous to you as you are to us. Lots of travel, few deadlines and exactly as much coffee as you need.

We recorded something special for you. Point your camera at the code and turn the sound up!

Thirty is just eighteen with twelve years of experience.
Happy birthday!

My darling, it feels like only yesterday I was braiding your hair before your first day at school. You have grown into a wonderful person. I am so proud of you. Love you endlessly.

Mum

I am not good at writing, so I would rather say it out loud. Listen!
